Neu-Isenburg, February 27, 2025 – KGS Software GmbH is kicking off its several international activities for the year with its first appearance at the popular SAPinsider conference in Las Vegas (Hotel Bellagio, Booth 660). The tia® archiving platform has already made a significant impact in the U.S. market. KGS Software Inc. has been active there since 2019, and now, for the first time, they're showcasing their solution at SAPinsider.

At this event in Las Vegas, SAP will present the latest trends, insights, and strategies that are shaping the SAP landscape today and in the future. Alongside a number of certified partners, SAPinsider will not only dive into technical innovations and the opportunities they create but also highlight best practices that participants can use to drive actionable change in their own organizations. The event is expected to attract over 1,500 SAP professionals eager to learn more about the SAP ecosystem.

Benjamin Schröder, Head of Development & Delivery, shared: "We'll be at the conference with a booth and a presentation. Our focus will be the migration of archives to the cloud as part of a migration to SAP S/4HANA, especially with RISE with SAP. We're particularly excited to introduce our flexibility with ArchiveLink® and CMIS to the U.S. market, as we've consistently received feedback on how beneficial these hybrid solutions are for companies."

Ahead of the conference, kgs, in partnership with Reply, is also hosting a webinar titled "Tackling Archiving Prior to and After Your S/4HANA Deployment." In this session, attendees will learn key insights into implementing S/4HANA, when to choose Greenfield, Brownfield, or Selective Data Transition (SDT), and the differences between On-Premises, SAP RISE Private Cloud, and SAP S/4HANA Public Cloud deployments.
